

hayku

Hayku is a ceiling pendant light fitting with timber lampshade, whose body we laminate manually with several layers of natural veneer to emphasise the natural beauty of the wood. This suspended semi-flush mount light fixture allows illuminating of both the space beneath and the ceiling above, while the colour and the sheen level of the lampshade amplifies the light, thus complementing indirectly the general lighting of the interior. Hayku suits perfectly low tables and high ones as well as bar countertops and serves effectively, both arranged independently and in groups as per the requirement of the space or the size of the table, above which it is suspended.
